

Affidavit Law Upheld by 3 Federal Judges

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A three-judge federal court today upheld Arkansas' controversial teacher affidavit law but overturned another measure which forbids public employment of members of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

The opinion, which upheld the affidavit law, passed in a 1958 special legislative session, on ground that "a public employer has a right to know the organization to which its employees, including school teachers, belong or have belonged."

The Act requires public school teachers, including college instructors, to swear to organizations to which they have belonged or contributed during the last five years. Otherwise they may not be employed.

A storm of protest over the measure broke out among teachers at some state-supported institutions of higher learning, particularly the University of Arkansas.

Although holding the anti-NAACP act invalid, the three-judge panel said it had no authority to order any school board to retain any specific person in its employment or to forbid it to discharge any specific person.

That in effect apparently would permit school authorities to dismiss an instructor because he was a member of the NAACP without reference to the invalidated act.

The court said that "the statute is clearly unconstitutional since it makes mere membership in the NAACP a ground for dismissal regardless of whether the employee had any knowledge of, or sympathy with, the aims or purposes of the organization."

The decisions were handed down in a suit brought by B. T. Shelton. Continued on Page Two.

Moscow in Praise of Conference

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio said today the foundation for successful negotiations has been laid at the Geneva conference.

At the same time the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda suggested the next few days may decide what results can be expected from the Big Four foreign ministers meeting.

Contrary to a gloomy forecast by certain U. S. politicians and commentators, we in the U. S. believe Geneva talks can bring positive results," Moscow radio said in an English language broadcast.

Congress Asked by Ike to Scrap Interest Ceiling

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today asked Congress to scrap the interest ceiling on government bonds, both long and short term. He also called for an increase in the national debt ceiling.

In a special message, Eisenhower said such steps are necessary for successful management of the public debt, now a record 286 billion dollars.

He said the Treasury Department will formally put before Congress requests for:

1. Removal of the current 3 per cent interest ceiling on savings bonds.
2. Elimination of the present 4 1/2 per cent interest limit on marketable bonds of more than five years maturity.
3. A hike in the permanent national debt ceiling from the current 283 billion dollars to 288 billion dollars, plus an increase in the temporary limit from the present 288 billion to 295 billion.

In the savings bond field, Eisenhower said the Treasury Department plans a new interest rate of 3 per cent on all series "B" and "H" bonds sold beginning June 1. That is an interest hike of a half of one per cent.

Eisenhower said further the Treasury Department plans an "improved interest rate" on all series "B" and "H" bonds now outstanding, as well as improved extension terms for outstanding "E" bonds when they mature.

"The public debt must be managed so as to safeguard the public credit," Eisenhower told Congress.

"It must be managed in a way that is consistent with economic growth and stability."

The President cited reasons why he believes removal of the interest ceiling on government bonds is necessary at this time.

Rapid growth in borrowing demands of corporations, individuals, state and local governments tends to diminish the amount of funds available for investment in direct federal government securities, he said.

Educational Board Okays Larger Budget

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—The State Board of Education today approved a $44,266,600 budget for 1959-60 fiscal year.

This compares with a $42,914,434 budget for 1958-59.

The new budget conforms to appropriations made by the 1959 Legislature and includes a legislative-authorized item permitting the board to give financial assistance to school districts existing integration suits.

A committee, composed of Chairman Marvin Bird of Earle, Vice Chairman John Rye of Russellville, and W. D. McKay of Magnolia, was appointed to study policies in connection with possible disbursements from the anti-integration fund.

The committee will report to the full board at its July meeting.

The board said that bond issues floated by local school districts must have an interest rate of not more than four per cent.

Any proposed issue on which interest would be above that rate will be considered individually by the board at a future meeting.

The board formally approved the charter of Conway Union Baptist College at Conway.

The board re-elected Bird and Rye as its officers.

Chlorine Cars Wrecked in Georgia Town

MCRAE, Ga. (AP)—Fear gripped this Georgia community today as wrecking crews began removing two derailed railroad tank cars containing 10,000 gallons of chlorine.

The main railroad line was cleared about 8:45 a. m. of debris left by the derailment of 19 Southern Railway freight cars. The wrecking crews concentrated on the two cars filled with the irritating and potentially suffocating gas.

The vice president of a chemical firm in Atlanta, William Mackie, pointed out that although chlorine is highly dangerous, it is a slow escape. Moreover, it is not explosive, except that daytime rising pressure tends to increase the pressure under which it is contained in the tanks.

The grim pile of potential death lay beside a shattered warehouse one block north of Main street and 40 feet from U. S. 441 in this south-central Georgia town of about 3,500.

Army reserve and air patrol units cordoned off the area. Authorities broadcast messages urging residents to be calm.

A helicopter brought gas masks from Warner Robins Air Force Base. Bulldozers started moving the pulpwood.

"We're ready to evacuate," said Mayor George Callahan, "but there's no wind and we don't know where the gas is going."

Officials of the Olin-Matheson chemical Co. at McIntosh, Ala., arrived by plane to examine the situation.

A company official said it was possible for the chlorine in the two cars to contaminate an area in a one-mile radius. The chlorine is shipped in liquid form and turns into a gas when released. It is an essential part of many war gases.

Police Chief E. L. Blume said "the people are all scared but we've advised them to keep calm and stay away from the chlorine tanks. We're just holding on and waiting to see what is decided."

The situation developed Sunday night when 16 freight cars and three diesel engines derailed near the center of town. The cars were part of a 66-car Southern Railway train southbound for Brunswick from Macon.

Hope Teacher One of Four Killed in Wreck

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A shattering two-car collision south of Arkadelphia killed four persons last night, raising to 20 the number of violent deaths in Arkansas during the week ended last midnight yesterday.

An accidental electrocution and two drownings occurred yesterday. Earlier in the week seven other persons died in traffic accidents, two drowned and another was killed by lightning. One died of burns suffered earlier, one was shot and one hit by a train.

Killed in the crash yesterday were Miss Suzanne Sage, 51, of Hope, driver of one car, and two of her passengers, Mrs. Mary Sue Powell, 40, of Gurdon, and her daughter, Ellen Gail, 13. Another daughter, Julia, 16, was hospitalized.

The fourth victim was Laurence Sowell, 18-months old. She was riding in a car driven by her father, M-Sgt. Thomas R. Sowell, of Little Rock Air Force Base. Sowell, his wife, Virginia, 37, and their other two children, Sharon, 12, and Danny, 10, were injured and hospitalized.

The accident occurred on U. S. Highway 67 during a rainstorm. State Trooper Earl Orr said Mrs. Sage's automobile had passed another car when she apparently suddenly slammed on her brakes. The auto spun into the oncoming line of traffic and was hit broadside by Sowell's car.

Miss Sage is a native of the Blewins area. She was an 8th grade teacher in Hope Junior High School here the past year.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Vivian Andrews of Dallas and a nephew, John Thomas of Marlton, New Jersey.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday at Herndon-Cornelius Chapel by the Rev. Rufus Sorrells. Burial will be in Marlboro Cemetery, near Blewins.

James De Bruler, 28, of Hot Springs, was electrocuted yesterday by an electric drill as he worked in shallow water at Lake Hamilton and worked to install a light in his boat.

Jimmy Maxwell, 58, a commercial fisherman, of Fort Smith, drowned in the Arkansas River at Fort Smith yesterday. Coroner C. G. Hendrix said Maxwell apparently fell from his boat while fishing.

At Forrest City yesterday, John Ross III, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ross of Forrest City, drowned in the city swimming pool.

The boy was found on the bottom of the pool soon after his mother reported him missing. The pool manager said apparently the child slipped under a chain separating deep and shallow parts of the pool.

Declares U. S. Ahead in Field of Medicine

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A Washington, D. C., physician said yesterday that in the field of medicine America is far ahead of Russia.

Dr. DeWitt Stetten Jr., told graduating seniors at the University of Arkansas Medical Center commencement that it is up to them to make sure we are the leaders in 1969 and 1979.

Dr. Stetten is associate director of research for the National Institute of Arthritis and Metabolic Diseases. He returned recently from a three-week tour of Russian medical institutions.

He said that medical schools in Russia were turning out far more doctors than the United States but was 10 to 20 years behind the times.

He attributed this condition to too narrow specialization and "intellectual rigidity."

And he added that much of the Russian work is devoted to repetitions of the classical experiments of Iven Petrovich Pavlov, the famed Russian biologist, who died in 1936.

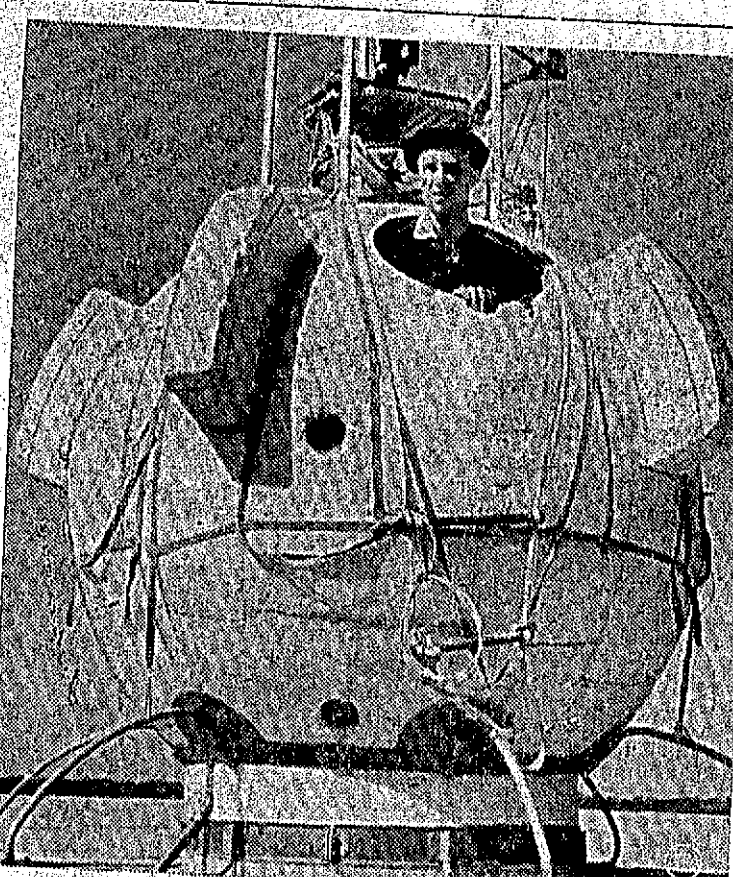

"Pavlov is the opiate of the physiologists," he added.

The center graduated 69 persons from the School of Medicine, 27 from the School of Pharmacy, 11 from the School of Nursing and 8 from the School of Medical Technology.

Liberace Libel Case to Trial in England

LONDON (AP)—American entertainer Liberace's libel case against a British court today that he is a homosexual.

His denial came at the opening of a libel trial in London today. The trial is the first of its kind in the history of the British legal system.

The libel suit was filed by Liberace against the Daily Mirror newspaper, which wrote under the pen name of Cassandra.

The entertainer, whose full name is Wladislaw Valentine Liberace, was asked by his lawyer, Gilbert Beyfus, if he ever indulged in homosexual practices.

"No sir, never in my life," Liberace replied.

Beyfus said the language used by Connor in the Daily Mirror "meant, and was intended to mean, that Liberace was a homosexual."

The trial opened before a judge and a jury that included two women and girls.

As is the practice in British courts, the libel suit does not ask for a specific sum in damages. The amount, if any, will be fixed by the jury.

Beyfus quoted in court the offending articles.

"He reeks with emetic language that can only make grown men long for a quiet corner, an aspirin, a handkerchief and the old heave-ho. Without doubt he is the blagiest, sentimental vomit of all time," one said in part.

Beyfus said the article caused Liberace intense distress and that his mother was most upset when she finally saw it.

In its defense plea the Mirror contended that statements of fact in the Connor article were true, and that his expressions of opinion were fair comment.

A distance the missile traveled was not disclosed. The department said only that the submarine was "somewhere at sea."

Hard to Identify Many Charred, Cremated Bodies

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Sixteen farm laborers were killed and 32 others were injured when a charred, fashioned bus crashed into a three-lane, exploded near Phoenix today.

The highway patrol, which had difficulty determining the number of charred and cremated bodies in the twisted wreckage, listed these figures as official but said there may be more dead.

All the victims were Mexican nationals.

Many of the injured were reported in serious condition with burns and broken bones.

Patrolmen said the driver, Nito Manuel Gloria Jr., apparently fell asleep at the wheel while taking the workers from the farm-labor office at Mesa, Ariz., west of Phoenix, to fields at Tolleson, east of Phoenix.

The truck, which had been converted into a bus, with sides and a top, left a main suburban thoroughfare just south of the Phoenix city limits, plowed through a ditch and smashed into a tree.

Patrolmen said the head-on crash burst the vehicle's fuel line and caused an explosion.

Elmer Charnbonneau, who lives near the scene, said an explosion awakened him.

"It sounded like a loud clap of thunder," he said, "ran to the window and saw flames spread over the entire bed of the bus. Then I heard screaming."

By the time he got there most of those who could get out were wandering in a nearby field or were stretched out in the ditch.

The converted truck had only one exit, a single door at the rear. Those who escaped appeared to be in a state of shock. They wandered about the field aimlessly.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—At least 11 persons were killed and 32 injured when a truck carrying about 50 farm laborers smashed into a tree and burst into flames today.

The Arizona Highway Patrol said most of the dead were cremated.

The accident occurred just southeast of Phoenix on Baseline Road, a main suburban thoroughfare connecting the city with southbound highways.

Immediately what caused the truck to leave the road.

Bennett Hits Klan as Well as NAACP

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Ku Klux Klan — newly chartered to operate in Arkansas — has been called by Aly. Gen. Bruce Bennett equally as harmful to the state as the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

Bennett, addressing in a speech Saturday night, said:

"Two years ago I advocated that we here in Arkansas erect a sign at our borders saying, 'NAACP, you are not welcome here.' I now call upon you people to lift high another banner telling the world know, 'Ku Klux Klan, you are not welcome in Arkansas.'"

Bennett said both organizations were foreign "with unlawful designs upon the peace and order of our state."

A. C. Hightower, a Little Rock barber, filed incorporation papers last week for an Arkansas branch of the U. S. Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, a Georgia organization.

Bennett spoke before the State Council of Municipal Employees.

Now Is Time to Spray Tomatoes

If you desire worm free tomatoes, it is necessary to spray or dust at once with TDE warns Oliver L. Adams, County Agent. During the past week, tomato fruitworm egg deposition was heavy on tomatoes. The eggs will begin hatching in three to five days and larvae will begin feeding on the fruit. Dust with 10% TDE, or spray with 2 tablespoons, 50% wettable TDE to one gallon of water. The TDE may be used to 1-day of harvest if the fruit is washed or wiped.

Tomato earworms on the garden corn may be controlled by dusting the silks every other day beginning at silking. Use 5% DDT dust. If you should prefer to spray the fresh silks with white mineral oil and emulsifiable DDT solution see the County Agent for details.

Elderly Couple Takes Own Lives

ST. LOUIS (AP) — An elderly man and his wife were found dead in bed in their second floor apartment Sunday. They left behind a message of despair.

The way in which Joseph M. Palmisano, 65, and his wife Sabina, 63, died was a mystery. No marks of violence were found. Several bottles of medicine found near them were being analyzed.

A note written by Mrs. Palmisano indicated they had not been able to afford moving into a home for the aged.

"This is a coward's way out, but better this way than to be a burden," it read in part.

"We tried to get in a home, 4-800 a year. When we heard the cost we knew there was no other out."

"What are people like Joe and I do?"

"Why don't you think of the sick and aged? I do not have a single relation and no one cares what becomes of us. Please, for God's sake, try and help the sick and aged."

She mentioned the family doctor, her husband's brother, Thomas Palmisano, 58, and a man identified only as John E. Smith as the only ones who had treated them kindly.

"I pray God will forgive us for taking this way out," the note ended.

The ways of summer living are many, some busy and some easy and relaxed. Most of us combine business and pleasure in the summer and dress for both roles. For business, there's this striped dress of pure silk, hair-line striped in black on white. Collar of this coachman dress is black velvet and so is the trim on the belt. For terrace living in city or country, there's this dress with foreign sports car pattern in black and white on pure silk. Skirt is arc-shaped, a brand new cut. Domino design, again in black and white, pure silk (right), makes a simple but stunning summer dress. It's a shortwaist dress with sleeveless top. All designs shown here are by Nat Kaplan. Clothes like these are the precious jewels of any wardrobe.

Sutton, recent bride. Pink petunias and pink candles graced points of interest in the entertainment rooms.

Assisting in dispensing hospitality were Mrs. Dorsey Collins, Mrs. William Butler, and Mrs. W. J. Hinton. The guests played several games under the direction of Mrs. Marie Bullock, Mrs. J. B. Beckworth, and Mrs. C. F. Munn. The last game was won by the honored who was presented the many lovely gifts at this time.

For refreshments the guests were served delicious punch, cookies, and nuts by Mrs. Wallace Nolan of Oklahoma City, Okla. Other out-of-town guests were Mrs. Hilary Nolan and Miss Jo Beth Nolan, both of Blevins. About 25 guests enjoyed the occasion.

DOROTHY DIX

Wife Raises Cash
Hubby Rakes It In

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I fear my marriage is breaking up because my husband is unwilling for me to quit work, until this year I have had the responsibility of educating my son by a former marriage. Now that the boy is away from home, I feel my husband should assume my support and let me be a full-time housewife. He thinks otherwise, however. He says he wants to save for the future, but all I can see for my years of work is a larger bank account in my husband's name. He refuses to have a joint account and all our other possessions are in his name. I cannot afford the risk of quitting work to test his intentions because I have a good job and it would be hard for me to find another, as I'm over 40. I am tired of my present situation.

DEAR PAMELA: You seem to have been on a one-way street all through your marriage. Any man of good intention would have assumed your support and the education of your child at the time of marriage. You have made things much too easy for your husband, and he is naturally disinclined to give up a good thing when he has it. As matters now stand, he could walk out tomorrow, leaving you nothing. If you must continue working, at least save your own money and take steps to make a better property adjustment.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: As with most young families of today, there is a hole in our budget. Mom and Dad take very good care of my essentials but I'd like to earn money to buy extras such as gifts, special treats, etc. I'm eleven. I help with the housework but would like to do something outside. I like to sew and paint. Have you any ideas? — J.D.

DEAR J. D.: Well, you sure are an ambitious young lady. The law won't allow you to do much outside work but here are a few suggestions. Perhaps some of the neighbors would be glad to turn their mending over to you or get your help with a dress-making project. Dress dolls to sell, sew some party aprons or make baby clothes. Ask mother what special events are taking place in the neighborhood such as bridge showers, parties or the arrival of

Berryville Girl Wins Contest

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The new Miss Arkansas Chick is Suellen Martin, a 17-year-old beauty from Berryville. She was crowned Saturday night at the 10th annual Arkansas Poultry Festival.

Miss Martin, a blue-eyed blonde, succeeds another Berryville girl, Donna Sue Needham, who took the first Miss Chick title last year. A graduate of Berryville High

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I was recently engaged to a nice boy. Same age (20). Same religion. We broke up because of my mother. She never gave any reason for disliking him. I do like him and want to go back to him. Should I follow my heart or listen to my mother? — Betty

DEAR BETTY: Since mother seems to be a bit unreasonable and prejudiced, while your heart has definite direct intentions, follow it. If your mother had good reason for disliking the boy, she'd tell you.

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her care of this newspaper.

Hoyt Wilhelm Is Talk of the American Loop

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Casey Stengel might as well announce it today: Hoyt Wilhelm will be the starting pitcher for the American League in the All-Star game at Pittsburgh, July 7.

It is old Case has any other ideas he had better forget them. Wilhelm has everybody on his side except the poor catcher who will have to dive for those darting knucklers.

Wilhelm and Triandos teamed up on Kansas City Sunday to best Baltimore into second place. The surprising Orioles are only one game behind the league-leading Chicago White Sox.

While Hoyt's knuckler was flitting past the A's for a 3-0 seven-inning shutout, Triandos' 13th home run with Al Pilarcik on base was providing the insurance. It was Wilhelm's ninth straight victory without a defeat.

After the game, the statisticians went into a huddle and reported Wilhelm's earned run average, figured all the way down to a third of an inning, was a startling 0.990.

Chicago's lead was shaved while they split with Boston. After the White Sox staged one of their rare big innings — six runs in the second — Boston grabbed the second 4-2 although Frank Sullivan needed help from Leo Kieley and Mike Fornieles in the ninth after eight shutout innings.

The largest American League crowd of the season, 59,823, gathered at Cleveland where he In-graduated a pair with the new York Yankees. Herb Score beat Don Larsen in the first game 7-5 but the Yankees hopped on Cal McLish for four runs in the second inning of the nightcap to get an even break 4-3.

Eddie Yost hammered two home runs against his former Washington mates in Detroit's 6-4 victory that pulled the Tigers up to the 500 mark. Charlie Maxwell also homered for the Tigers and Jim Lemon and Roy Sievers for the Senators.

Milwaukee opened up a two-game lead in the National by scoring eight runs in the seventh inning for an 8-2 victory over Los Angeles.

San Francisco dropped back a half game by breaking even at Cincinnati. The Giants rolled to a 5-3 victory in the opener but bowed to Orlando Pena's four-hit pitching in the second 7-1.

Chicago moved into third place by sweeping Pittsburgh, 4-2 and 1-0. Philadelphia split with St. Louis the Phils taking the wild opener 11-9 and Vinegar Bend Mizell pitching a five-hit shutout, 2-0, in the finale, marked by a fist fight between the Phils' Don Cardwell and the Cards' Gino Cimoli.

Milwaukee Ends Slump; Cards, Phillies Split

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ask National League managers about the best lefty-righty relief combination in the league and they'll point to Chicago's Bill Henry and Don Elston.

Henry and Elston did it again Sunday when they clipped in to help John Bushardt and Elmer Singleton rack up victories that boosted the Cubs into the race atmosphere of third place.

Henry, the lefty, saved Bushardt in the eighth inning of a 4-2 first game victory over Pittsburgh. It was Henry again in the second game when Singleton walked two men in the eighth inning. The southpaw retired Bill Virdon on a fly ball and Elston marched in to mop up the rest of the hit shutout.

Milwaukee's Braves snapped out of their slump, scoring eight runs in the seventh inning to rout their most persistent tormentor, Don Drysdale, with an 8-2 victory over Los Angeles. Bill Bruton had two of his four singles in the big inning but the key hit was a pinch three-run double by Andy Pafko.

San Francisco whipped Cincinnati 5-4 behind Jack Sanford in the first game, only to slip back in the race by losing the second 7-1 to Orlando Pena's four-hit batter.

They had a wild Sunday in quiet Philadelphia. First the Phils battered St. Louis' pitching for 16 hits and an 11-9 decision in the first game. Then a fist fight erupted between Don Cardwell, pitcher, and Gino Cimoli, Card outfielder, while Vinegar Bend Mizell was shutting out the Phils 2-0 with five hits in the second game.

Hoyt Wilhelm, a former National League, continued to be the big story of the American League when he won his ninth straight without loss for Baltimore, 3-0 over Kansas City. In addition to cutting his earned run average to a fabulous 0.999, Wilhelm pitched the Orioles into second place, only one game behind Chicago.

The league-leading White Sox downed the Boston Red Sox 6-4 in the opener but bowed to Frank Sullivan 4-2 in the second game. Cleveland also divided a Sunday double header before the season's largest American League crowd, 59,823. After Herb Score beat the New York Yankees 7-5, the Yanks hopped on Cal McLish for four runs in the second inning and held on for a 4-3 decision in the second game. Eddie Yost's two homers against his old Washington mates helped Detroit to a 6-4 victory.

Nashville chances of winning the first half of the Southern Assn. split season looked better today after the Vols whipped their habit of blowing games in the late innings.

The Vols ran their current victory string to three games yesterday by sweeping a double-header from New Orleans. They won the 12-inning opener 7-6, then outlasted the Pelicans 0-8 in the short nightcap to pull to within half a game of pace-setting Birmingham.

Shreveport downed Birmingham 4-2 for a split in its four-game series with the Barons. Memphis took a firmer grip on fifth place.

RADIOACTIVE—Danish health authorities have banned the drinking of radioactive rainwater on tiny Saltholm Island in the Oeresund Straits between Denmark and Sweden (see Newsmap). The high level of radioactivity has apparently resulted from Soviet nuclear test blasts. Saltholm residents will now import drinking water.

Manila, the chief city of the Philippine Islands, was founded in 1571 by the Spaniard, Miguel Lopez de Legazpi. The small early settlement which started as a fort soon became a center of oriental trade. Except for a brief period (1762-64) of British occupancy, the city was in Spanish hands from its founding to 1898 when the Spanish surrendered the Philippines to the U.S. Manila was the islands' capital until 1948 when a suburb, Quezon City, was made the official capital.

Oversight Group to Discuss Agencies

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Legislative Oversight Subcommittee will get back to work June 15 with discussions on problems involving federal agencies, Rep. Owen Harris (D-Ark) said yesterday.

The panel, assigned to review oversights in laws setting up independent regulatory agencies, will hear testimony of experts through June 24.

Harris, the chairman, said the experts would discuss what issues would be taken to prevent influencing commission members; the roles of agency hearing examiners, commissioners and their staffs; and the efficiency of the regulatory commissions.

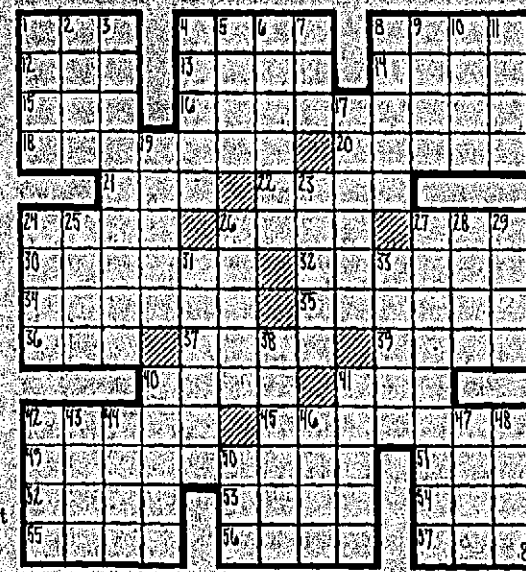

Agencies to be dealt with are the Civil Aeronautics Board, Federal Communications Commission, Federal Power Commission, Federal Trade Commission, Interstate Commerce Commission and the Securities and Exchange Commission.

There are places named North Pole far south of the Arctic Circle.

Russia Trying to Sidetrack Berlin Talk

By JOHN M. AIGHTOWER

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union today appeared trying to sidetrack Big Four negotiations on the Berlin crisis by driving directly for an agreement to hold a summit meeting. Western officials insist Berlin comes first.

Secret exchanges were to resume today as the foreign ministers began their fifth week of negotiation. An American informant said the talks still hinge on the Soviet threat to Berlin, which has hamstringed the parley from the start.

The apparent Soviet strategy for the final stage of the conference emerged in statements by Premier Nikita Khrushchev and a spokesman for the Communist East German regime. They seemed to rule out any radically different instructions to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Khrushchev said in Budapest before returning to Moscow that East-West accords "undoubtedly will be reached at the summit," even if no agreement is achieved by the foreign ministers.

The Soviet premier displayed confidence a summit meeting will materialize by advising the governments of Finland, Denmark, Sweden and Norway that he may have to postpone the Scandinavian tour he is scheduled to make in August.

Stefan Heymann, chief information officer of the East German government, told a group of Western newsmen flown to East Berlin from Geneva that the issues of Berlin and Germany "can only be solved at the summit."

It was the threat of a new blockade cutting traffic to the isolated city that made the Berlin crisis acute last year and forced the calling of the foreign ministers' conference in an effort to avoid a military showdown.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Britain's Selwyn Lloyd and France's Maurice Couve de Murville seem to have run out of fresh ideas to propose to the Soviets. Gromyko hasn't come up with anything acceptable to the West.

Papa of Quads Has Plenty of Trouble

EAST ORANGE, N.J. (AP)—Sir Bravata's quadruplets and their mother are doing fine in East Orange General Hospital.

"But the proud papa admits 'I've got troubles'—another family in New York City."

Bravata became the father of a girl and three boys Saturday. Sunday he admitted he was married to another woman and had two children by her.

"Oh, he's a fine one," moaned

Bravata's wife, Grace, 38, as she lay in bed under sedation after hearing of the quads.

But Bravata, 39, a railroad freight conductor, said the quads' mother, Louise Stroblein Bravata, knew all along he was married.

"Louise couldn't be happier," Bravata said.

As for Grace: "I have no desire to talk to her. I never did. She's been giving me a hard time since the first day I married her."

Bravata said his lawyer, Herman Caponi of New York, "has got the case."

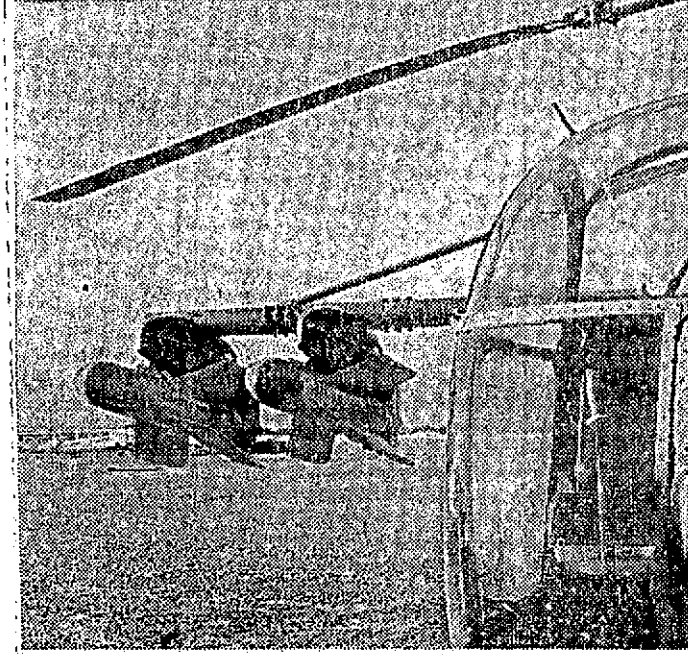

Missile Base in Greece Discussed

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Greece had told the Soviet Union the question of establishing missile bases in this country is strictly a Greek affair and any outside pressure is inadmissible.

The Greek Foreign Ministry also rejected a Soviet suggestion that Greece quit the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

BLASTOFF!—No sight is more significant in this period in history than the moment one of our tremendous rockets bids earth goodby for a trip into space. Slowly, almost ponderously, it rises—but displaying at the same time the unleashed power that is a promise of the hundreds-of-miles-an-hour speeds which will come as the journey progresses. This photo catches the magnificence of the scene as a Titan breaks for the sky at Cape Canaveral, Fla., our principal missile base.

HEDGEHOPPING TANK BUSTERS—A new dimension has been added to battlefield warfare—a helicopter carrying a missile said to be able to kyo any known type of tank. The helicopter is France's turbojet powered Alouette II, now being produced in this country. The missile is the remote controlled, wire guided SS-11, also French-made with U.S. technical assistance. The U.S. Seventh Army in Germany is slated to receive the solid propellant missile, which can also be hand carried, dropped by parachute or fired by a soldier on the ground. Sketch below shows helicopter-missile combination in Western-style ambush and quick draw contest with a tank.

Journey To Love

By VIRGINIA NIELSON

(C) 1959 by Virginia Nielson Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

"I'm sorry to disappoint you," Kathie said coldly. "The deed is worthless."

His mocking grin faded. "I'm sorry, Kathie," he said, and there was sincerity in his voice. "I'm truly sorry."

Lellani was looking on curiously, but she did not ask questions. The waiter appeared at Alex's elbow, and by the time he had finished ordering, Bea had returned with the news that a plane seat was available.

Kathie did not see Sam again before she left for Hilo. After a swim on the beach in front of the hotel, there was barely time to pack her bags.

Alex drove the three women in his own car, and when he reached the downtown area, he turned toward the mountains.

"Where in the world are you going, Alex?" Bea asked.

"Kathie can't leave Honolulu without seeing the Falls," he said.

"There's plenty of time."

He was driving up a street that gradually left the residential section behind and narrowed into a winding mountain road. Great trees entwined by a jungle of vines hid the steep mountains on each side of the narrowing ravine except for occasional glimpses.

Abruptly they came out of the trees to the summit, and Alex pulled off the highway. Kathie cried out at the vista of valley and sea that lay 3000 feet below them. From where they had stopped, the road zigzagged narrowly down the face of the mountain, so steep as to be almost a sheer cliff.

Later, along the road to the airport, Alex stopped to buy an armful of leis and for the second time that day the women were garlanded with sweet-smelling blossoms. Alex kissed Bea and Lellani good-by and Lellani threw her arms around his neck with a rush of emotion that struck sharply at Kathie's heart. He turned to Kathie then, and for the space of a heartbeat he hesitated.

"I can't be impartial," he said, grinning, and look her in his arms. She went cold all over at his touch, but when their lips met the blood flowed back into her veins with a warmth that was dizzying.

Dazedly she boarded the plane and listened as Lellani, who sat beside her, explain how to fasten her safety belt.

Lellani waved and made frantic sign language gestures through the porthole to Alex, waiting below. Kathie lifted her hand, too, but forgot to lower it. She stared at his foreshortened figure, bare-headed, his thin face creased by a one-sided smile.

I love him, she thought, with a frightened lurch of her heart. Whatever he is, whatever he's trying to do—I love him!

It was Kathie's first flight, and she stared through her window in half-fearful fascination as the great machine skimmed the concrete runway and lifted its nose toward the sea.

She caught a last glimpse of Alex's dwindling figure standing under the coconut palms near the air terminal.

When would she see him again?

President and GOPs to Talk About Party

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower explores with other Republicans tonight methods of reviving their party's lagging prospects of regaining control of Congress.

Eisenhower is expected to urge GOP members at a $100-a-plate dinner to put forth some of the "revolutionary effort" he told his news conference last week will be needed to win Senate and House contests.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon also will speak at the dinner, officially billed as honoring Republicans in Congress.

With a capacity 3,200 tickets reportedly sold, the dinner was expected to raise upward of $300,000 for the Republican campaign committees of the two houses. Of the net proceeds the House committee will get 60 per cent and the Senate group 40 per cent.

The dinner was arranged by the chairman of the two committees, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Rep. Richard M. Simpson of Pennsylvania.

In advance of the dinner, Republicans had indications their criticisms of the Democratic-controlled Congress are beginning to hit home.

Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana, House minority leader, has been accusing the Democrats of "budgies for your trip?"

"Yes, but—" "We haven't got anything but a lot of do-bis," she said cynically. "Bea has a business iron in the fire in San Francisco, but I don't think anything will come of it. She thinks I'll marry money and pay off our debts."

Kathie looked at her, a little shocked. "Sam?" she asked. "But you don't love him, do you?"

Lellani hesitated, her lovely eyes clouded. "He's rather sweet, isn't he?" she said. "And so terribly rich. But so far you have the edge with him. Are you going to grab him?"

"Lellani!" Kathie protested, embarrassed.

It annoyed her to see Lellani's charm marked by such frank calculation, even though the calculation was so obviously her mother's. "Besides, isn't Alex wealthy enough?"

"Oh, his grandfather has other property," Lellani said, with a carefree shrug, "but it's all tied up, and there are too many descendants sharing the income. Whoever marries Alex will have to live off what he earns as a reporter for a long time. After his grandfather dies, the estate will be split up between ways Alex is related to half of Honolulu, I do believe!"

It sounded like a wonderful life, Kathie thought, but she refrained from saying so.

Confederate Vet Has Highest Rank

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—To the distinction of being the last survivor of the Confederate army, 116-year-old Walter Williams has added still another.

Now he holds higher rank than any ever achieved by his comrades at arms.

In a weekend ceremony at his bedside, a group calling itself the Confederate High Command presented the old soldier an honorary commission as a five-star general—a rank which didn't exist in Civil War days.

Donald A. Ramsey, a St. Petersburg, Fla., mining engineer, made the presentation as executive commissioner of the semi-military order.

Williams, fortified with a nip of whisky for what his doctor described as a slight chill, dozed during most of the ceremony.

ot-busting activities. Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, the GOP national chairman, has called the Democratic controlled legislature "won't do" Congress.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, who promised earlier that this would be a "can-do" Congress, struck back at these criticisms in a Baltimore, Md., speech Sunday.

Johnson said he is sorry to see the Republicans are practicing the theory that "the way to win elections is to run against something—to prove that the opposition is motivated by bad faith."

"It is a dangerous theory because it leads those who embrace it to take a further step," he said. "It is that unless they control an institution of government, they will not let that institution work."

Fulbright Sees Need for Tough President

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) says the United States needs a tough president to make democracy work, especially in the foreign relations field.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, added that as of the moment Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Texas) is the best qualified man to succeed President Eisenhower next year.

Fulbright said on the NBC television program "Meet The Press," that one of the chief qualities needed by a president is the ability to manage Congress. Johnson, according to Fulbright, has shown such ability as majority leader in the Senate.
